"The Sixty-fifth congress now," the president added, "deserves the gratitude and appreciation of a people whose will and purpose I believe it has faithfully expressed. One cannot examine the record of its action without being impressed by its completeness, its courage and its full comprehension of a great task.

"I believe that it has also in equal legree and as far as possible in the face of war safeguarded the rights of the people and kept in mind the conslderations of social justice so often obscured in the hasty readjustments of such a crisis.

"It seems to me that the work of this remarkable session has not only been done thoroughly but that it has also been done with the utmost dispatch possible in the circumstances or consistent with a full consideration of the exceedingly critical matters dealt with. Best of all, it has left no doubt as to the spirit and determination of the country, but has affirmed them as loyally and emphatically as our fine soldiers will affirm them on the firing

MAKES HIS SPEECH TO THE SENATORS

Loyal Men Make Reply to Him as the Session Comes to End.

Washington, Oct. 6.-Congress enered the last hours of the session with all attention turned to the senate, where Senator LaFollette took the floor at 10 o'clock to make a threehour speech in answer to the critics who have petitioned for his expulsion because of his course and public uterances toward the war.

By prearrangement, two hours were reserved in which senators were to reply at the close of his speech, and unless some unforescen development took place, adjournment of congress President Wilson Issues a Kaiser's Forces in Exposed for the session was expected at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

House Members Listen. Members of the house, which was only marking time waiting for the senate, flocked to the senate chamber, where galleries and floor were jammed in expectation of a spectacular finale to the session, which appropriated hitherto unheard of billions for the or less similar nature, the details was measures in an incredibly short LaFollette, always a spectacular figure in debate, and acknowledged as no mean opponent by his enemies, had spent yesterday and most of the night preparing his speech.

Standing at his seat in the front row before the vice president's desk, La-Follette began his address, reading carefully and deliberately his manuscript, with senators giving close at tention. The prospect was that his carefully chosen words would not evoke some of the replies planned.

Makes a Discovery.

"Gradually, reluctantly, congress and the country are beginning to perceive that we are in this terrible world conflict, not only to right our wrongs, not only to aid the allies, not only to share its awful death toll and its fearful tax burdens, but perhaps to bear the brunt of the war.

"And so I say if we are to forestall the danger of being drawn into years of war, perhaps finally to attain imperialism and exploitation, the people must unite in a campaign along constitutional lines for free discussion of the policy of the war and its conclusion on a just basis." Washington, D. C., Oct. 6 .- Further fetails of the pernicious activities of Bolo Pasha as revealed in the state confidential cablegrams between Count efforts in certain quarters in the Univon Bernstorff and Foreign Minister von Jagow today created a mild furore in official and diplomatic circles. The correspondence was made public without comment or explanation or how it came into the department's possession. The revelation of German intrigue includes the recital of Bernstorm's effort to induce a premature peace move by procuring a loan of $1,700,000 for "leading political personality" in France. The attempt was made in February, 1916, when the activities of French socialists menaced the stability of the government.

Washington, Oct. 6 .- Details of a fight between an American destroyer in European waters and a German submarine, in which the submarine was destroyed by depth bombs were announced by the navy department today.

The name of the destroyer and the time and place of the engagement are withheld in the navy department's announcement. Announcement was made in the following statement:

"The secretary of the navy authorizes the publication of this account of an engagement between an American destroyer and an enemy submarine: This is one of a number of encounters of a more

Lima, Peru, Oct. 6.—The Peruvian relations with Germany.

 Summary of the Day's War News

Continuing effects are observable of the hard blow struck by the British at the German lines in Flanders on Thursday. At some points on the front the Germans have been compelled to retire still further than they were carried by the drive of the British. The positions they occupied were found too greatly exposed to the rain of the fire from the British artillery. British patrols discovered this condition when they were sent forward to reconnoiter. All along one sector the forward shell hole defenses were abandoned. The British are firmly holding their new line. By last night they were well dug in along the advanced front and ready for any further counterattacks.

HISTORIC SESSION ENDS.

The special session of congress that comes to an and today will be historic. In no session since the republic was established has an American congress accomplished so many momentous things or performed on a scale so vast. Within a period of six months since President Wilson convened the body in extraordinary session to declare war and to enact first place it sorely needs the money. And again looking back over the session, in congress have been kept in abeyance. The consideration of measures for the war has not been without some note of partyism, but feeling has had small place and contentions for the most part have issued from genuine difference of opinion as to certain details of proposals and procedures rather than from partisan spirit. For more reasons than the war this session of congress may become historic. Of temporary design certainly, but with as yet unrevealed potentialities, certain great and vital measures bring to the country the spectacle of a limited socialized industry. The government is in control of the lines for the transmission of intelligence and in practical control of transportation. HELP SHOW THE KAISER.

It is urged by some as a reason why all who can should buy Liberty Loan bonds that the spectacle of a successful subscription over here will be apt to prove discouraging to the taiser and his government over there. We trust that we shall set him out certain good reasons in such way and that he and his Prussian war maniacs may be duly impressed. A more plausible view is that he and his warmakers will be likely to take courage from and make use of any indication of failure of our government to realize all that it ought to realize from the bond issue now before the American people for subscription.

It so falls out that while we have forward bond issue for popular absorption the kaiser's government has the same thing. The German government is exerting great energy and employing vast enterprise to insure the success of its current issue of bonds. In the legislation to carry on the war marvels have that imperative need it wants to be able to been wrought and the country transformed hearten the whole mass of Germans for furfrom a nation drowsing in peace into a war ther sacrifice and suffering in the continuation of a war that is now going against them and It always is fashionable to prod congress of which they are desperately sick. THE SECRET BIRD.

(Meditation for Sabbath Morning.) One day I mused in hushed retreats On blessed things, and there I heard, In myetic cadence exquisite, A Secret Bird.

Through pulseless air no mortal knows Its even accents rose and fell Upon the shadows of my soul Like peace on hell.

Heard once the weights and woes of life, Dispelled as tears before a kiss, Dissolved and left me free as air In wordless bliss.

And then I dreamed earth was the mist, And nothing real but this Song Exhaling from the Heart of Things The world along.

Meseems the air was very still. The haggard earth about me wore A strange, expectant interest, And one hope more.

Mon bowed with toll, in durance deep, Looked out through miserable pains, And, as they heard that Secret Song, They smiled in chains.

The sick'ning pangs of those who earn The hopeless raptures of despair In bloody trenches passed, and men Died like a prayer.

The earth award feverishly fround: Sometimes the clouds obscured the light; But through it all I heard that Voice Of atill Delight.

And every listning spirit knew, At each clean, sibliant accord, That God had chosen best for all, AND IS THE LORD.

The war has reached a stage where money is become equally importan with men-power. The ever-weakening economic condition of the central pow ers is proof of this. A MARKETING SUGGESTION. Editor of The Sentinel:

Permit me to offer a suggestion A merchant advertises in the paper distributes handbills, or has special sales to offer inducements to bring the customers into his store.

The farmers and truck gardeners are losing a valuable opportunity to bring their customers to their doors.

I would suggest that the farmer quarters under the official noses, are place in his front yard a bulletin board and quote thereon the product which tho prices.

The customers are brought to him by the automobile traffic passing his door, without any advertising expense

No doubt they could sell enough on their premises so that they would not have to bring it to market, thus again saving them the expense of this. In these times of food conservation and the high prices of foodstuff I believe that the farmer and his customers can be brought together so that the customer can buy a little cheaper than at our market. There are many farmers who do not attend market and this would give them an outlet for their produce.

On this bulletin board they could offer for sale a cow, a horse, a wagon. an automobile, eggs, butter and other articles too numerous to mention. These, together with the prices and the customers, will consummate a sale. This could be started in a small way by going out in every direction, say on the Illinois, Huntington, the Indianapolis, Lima, Maysville and, in fact, all traveled roads. The matter could be explained to vhere they could profitby it, and when once started there is no question but what others will rapidly follow. This matter should be given pubicity, as I believe it is important at

Robert Huestis, a son of former Fort Wayne residents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. C. Huestis, now living in Scattle, Wash., is second lieutenant in the engineer officers' reserve at Vancouver, B. C. barracks.

Mrs. W. A. Evans, who has been visiting her brother, Dr. John S. Mc-Curdy and family for several weeks. and who has been entertained by many old friends in the city during the time, is to leave on Sunday night for Chicago to visit her brother, Frank, and will go to St. Louis, Mo., for a visit with Mrs. R. S. Bradshaw. From St. Louis Mrs. Evans will coutinue her travels to her home in Portland, Ore., but will be joined at Kan sas City or some other point by Mrs. Amy Randall Senvey, who will also be en route to Portland, and together the ladies will visit in Salt Lake City with Nick Robertson and family. Mr Robertson was a former Fort Wayne resident.

Till—Delegrange.
A wedding in the country that interested many friends in the city was that of Miss Nora Delegrange and Mr. Leo Till which was solemnized on Oct. 2 at roit, Cleveland and Toledo, O.

Mrs. Raiph W. Smith and children officiating. Miss Irene Delegrange, the aft this morning for St. Joe, Mich. bride's sister, and Mr. John Till, the groom's brother, were the attendants. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Delegrange. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Till.

STATE FEDERATION NOTES

Local Committees Working In Unison For Coming Convention.

Preparations are rapidly nearing completion for the coming state federation of clubs to meet in this city on October 23, 24 and 25. Under the ablo direction of Mrs. A. E. Fauve, president of the Woman's club league ler and Mrs. W. Seavey. The outlines committees are working rapidly to a of work are not yet ready for districompletion of plans, that of finances button but will be at that time. being already disposed of. It is considered quite fortunate that the local league of club women has been able to secure Moose hall for the convention meetings. It is large enough, convenient and quiet, besides being a nodern hall and will be found well adapted for the convention needs.

As the term for Mrs. C. R. Fairbank, president of the federation, will expire, names of possible candidates nomination for officers will be from dy at the Bercot farm, on South Hanthe floor on Wednesday morning and it is openly announced that Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indianapolis. apolis, Mrs. Charles Drummond, of will fly at 4 o'clock.

South Bend, Mrs. W. W. Reed, of War saw. Of these ladies Mrs. S. E. Perkins is the logical candidate but her name has been announced by the Caroline Scott Harrison chapter, D. A. R., of Indianapolis, as a candidate for the state regency of that society which will hold its arrual meeting early in Nevember. So it is hardly likely that Mrs. Perkins will be a candidate for both offices. Mrs. Selter, of Hunting ton, is another who has been mentioned for the regency office.

Fort Wayne club women who are to take active part in the program of the convention include Mrs. C. R. Fairbank, president, who is the presiding officer, Mrs. A. E. Fauve, who will preside at the formal opening of the convention and will give the address of welcome on Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Clara Zollars Bond, who has charge of the musical program for the same evening, Mrs. O. N. Guidlin, who leads in a discussion on Tuesday morning on the topic, "What Has the Voca-tional School Done for Your City?" besides reports of committee on press work by Mrs. Samuel R. Taylor, on the credentials committee by Mrs. I N. Taylor, and on the election board Mrs. Martha J. Ridenour.

WITH THE STUDY CLUBS

The Shakespeare club will meet on Monday evening with Miss McKeag. of South Webster street. The club will begin "The Tempest."

The College club is to begin its fortnightly meetings next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Meetings this year will be held in the University club house. Mrs. Alice Bentley Gardiner will give a dramatic reading of "The Piper," by Josephine Peabody.

The opening meeting of the Saturday out will be held on Monday at the home of Mrs. George Evans. The subject of discussion will be that of patriotic activities. The Duodecimo club will hold its opening meeting for the season on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Guy Mahurin. The Thursday Shakespeare club will meet during the coming week with Mrs. Allison. This will be president's day and work of the study of "Cymbe line" will begin two weeks later.

The first meeting of the season of the Twentieth Century club will be held on Thursday afternoon with W. H. Ingham. The club is to study South America and the first otpic is the gateway to that country with Mrs. Wilder down for the Panama talk and Mrs. Benoy for one of Col. Goethals. FOR SUBURBAN DAY arations for Next Wednesday's Trade.

The merchants of Fort Wayne are now centering their interests on preparations for the fourth big Suburban lyering booze from an automobile at Trade day-next Wednesday, October 10-when exceptionally attractive "specials" will be placed on sale. There will be fully announced in next Tuesday's Sentinel.

That Suburban Trade day is becomng increasingly popular among the thousands of people in the surrounding territory is shown by the statements of the dealers. "We had a fine Suburban day trade last Wednesday in spite of the rain," is the report from Karn Brothers. "Many out-of-town people are much impressed by the Suburban day idea." From the S. S. Kresge Co. comes this comment: 'Last Wednesday taxed our sales force to the limit. The people are certainly beginning to appreciate what the Fort Wayne Suburban day means." As a matter of fact, the Fort Wayne idea is to attract the people for good, substantial reasons and not for idle entertainment. No doubt, it would be pos sible to secure big crowds through the medium of free shows and caranivals, but neither the people nor the mer chants would benefit therefrom.

You will never have such a splendid opportunity to secure "close-in" home property at such prices and on such terms as in West Brook View RIGHT NOW. The general sale opens Saturday, October 13. Reserve your lot

Theater-goers of this city may safely look forward to the biggest musical comedy treat in many years when Very Good Eddie" comes here for

The latter engagement was scheduled for only three months and the show was booked to appear here last spring. But Chicago would not permit the musical success to depart until the summer was too far advanced, and the local engagement was postponed until now. But local theater-goers will be well repaid for their

"Very Good Eddie" is one of the Marbury-Comstock "intimate" pro-ductions that have made the Princess theater the most popular playhouse in New York. It is a new type of comedy with music, produced in a swagger fashion, and with laughter, jingling melodies, bright dancing numbers and novel interpolations following each other in rapid succession. The cast boasts of such Broadway favorites as Denman Maley, Georgie Mack, Harry Meyers, Helen Raymond, Florence Theodora Warfield, Lavinia Winn, Harry Linkey, Jean DeBriac, Elaine Ford, Ralph O'Brien and forty others, including the original Princess theater assemblage of youthful beau ties. As for the music in the piece, composed by Jerome Kern, they have been dancing favorites here for months, although their real quality can only be appreciated when played and sung by the folks who originally

Snappy from the start, tuneful from end to end, as beautiful to the eye as a rainbow and as merry and gay throughout the production as a night at a circus, is said to be "Stop! Look! tions comes with a record of over a Listen," the new big production due here next Saturday, matinee and night, at the Majestic.

This is the big Irving Berlin-Charles Dillingham musical comedy that held all New York captive for a year and a half, and that last season made audiences applaud and roar from coast to coast. The father or ragtime, Irving Berlin, has scored more individual successes in America in the composition of syncopated airs than any other composer. No one will gainsay the particular flare for handsome effects in scenes and costumes for which the name of Charles Dillingham has stood in the theatrical world of America for . decade or more. With Berlin and Dillingham in a combination, as they are in "Stop! Look! Listen," the effect may be anticipated. The same big laugh spots that made the New York performances famous will be brought here. Song after song that irresistibly charm, dance after dance that overwhelmingly tickle the ear and eye, and turns of speech and conflict of comic character and stuations that spark laughs continually, are but some of the fascinations of the new production, according to the published judgments of overland reviewers. Not to see "Stop! Look! Listen!" has been floridly cited by one enthusiastic critic as a calamity, and to witness it an ecstacy, which, to say the least, is some praise. But to glance at the roster of big names in the cast is to understand at once that the diversion s unusual perforce. Included among hem are Chuck Riesner, of vaudeville fame; Alton Allen, George M. Smith, Kitty Hart, Mary Ambrose, Hazel Milton Dawson and Leon Leonard. The chorus girls of the production are said to be running away with more applause in all cities than the girly assembles of any production this season on tour...

The shows will commence promptly at 2 o'clock, eastern time, and at 3 o'clock the vaudeville will be stopped for the world's series game. After the game the vaudeville program will be continued.

Palace seat will enjoy it as much as the fan who pays a big price to see !: from a grand stand seat in Chicago.
The Blu.

Heading the big vaudeville bill the coming week is one of the catchiest musical comedictias of the year, James Crowley's "Inspiration Girls." The act is a display of excellent melody, great fun and clever dancing, while the scenic effects are more than cleasing to the eye. Mr. Crawley will oe remembered as the feature of "The Red Mill," "When Dreams Come True" and other productions of an equally nigh standard, and he has able assistents in Bobble Earle and Connic Campbell and a bevy of pretty girls. Johnnie Johnson and Bob Hearty assisted by Grace Eline, will be here with "On the Shrewsberry," an act of unusual merit, with an unusual plot and an unusual lot of interest. Val Harris and Jack Manion, two-London favories shortly before the war, are next in line with "Uncle Jerry at the Opera." It is a classily presented bit of fun, amusing from a comedy standpoint and entertaining from musical one.

"A Courtship in Song," one of the bright little tuneful novelties of the season, is on the bill. Orr & Hagan are presenting it and the people who seen it say it is one of the real high class exclusive musical features on the road.

The Seebacks will present an athletic act that is entertainingly original and thoroughly satisfying. Harry Seeback is the world's champion bag puncher and his demonstration of speed is a feature of the act.

The closing number is Danuy Simnons in his original monologue, "The Raw Recruit." Danny has never appeared here before; but his reputation has traveled far and few theatergoers have not longed for an opportunity to

If in the past we have been guilty of eviscerating the body of Christ of its power by mere petifogging denominationalism, let us now re-empower him by becoming in fact what we are in theory, all members of him who is the Head. Out yonder "somewhere in France" is No Man's Land, typical of the devisive clefts between great sections of mankind. How many broken limbs are out there; how many crushed and dismembered bodies have there before their time gone back "dust to dust," and how many human hopes and loves have there been irretrievably blasted. We say that this war is war against war. We say it is we pray. But if this be God's word we preach and hope and pray; if hereafter at the beliest of Christ's church peace is to be maintained, surely we must all speak the same thing. Great ecclesiastical system now in competition must come into most democratic cooperation, else the "No Man's Land out of the past and having its seat at of international relationships shall not of Life. "Is Dr. S. a friend of yours?" she was asked. "No," she said, "I have never met or even seen him." She was a telephone operator, and had night service from 9 p. m. to 3 a. m. calls for this physician, Dr. S., she had more than once rung his bell by mistake. Always he answered, not only with courtesy, but in a voice that showed no trace of impatience. It was such a grateful relief from the surly, sleepy voices of others awakened at midnight, or the harsh expressions directed at her when she called a wrong number by mistake, that she finally became deeply interested and wanted to know the secret of the difference between Dr. S. and othr men. She between Dr. S. and other men. She learned that Christ was supreme in his heart and life, and that what she was so admiring in him was simply Christ living in an earnest Christian. Soon Dr. S.'s Saviour was her Saviour. -Exchange.

A CHRISTIAN NATION.

The memorable Declaration which began our independent existence was the outgrowth of the type of Christianof a great rook in a weary land," we lity which had settled these shores, and embodied the true Christian principle of government and society. The very act by which we became an independent nation stamps us a Christian nation, the foremost of all in building unqualifiedly upon the equality, in an important sense, of all men. It is this feature of the Declaration of Independence which gives it chief significance and importance. It is at once the charter of our liberties and the enduring witness that they are founded on the immutable principles taught by Christ. The Declaration is a testimon* that whether God and Christ be recognized in the national constitution or not, we are and have been from the first a Christian nation.--- Christian In-

AT LAST.

(By JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER.)

When on my day of life the night is falling, And, in the winds from unsunned spaces blown, I hear far voices out of darkness calling My feet to paths unknown.

Thou who hast made my home of life so pleasant, Leave not its tenant when its walls decay; O love divine, O helper ever present, Be thou my strength and stay!

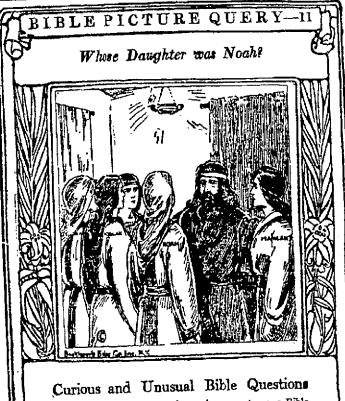

Be near me when all else is from me drifting; Earth, sky, home's pictures, days of shade and shine, And kindly faces to my own uplifting The love which answers minc.

I have but Thee, O Father! Let Thy Spirit Be with me then to comfort and uphold; No gate of pearl, no branch of palm I merit, Nor street of shining gold.

Suffice it if, my good and ill unreckoned, And both forgiven through Thy boundiess grace, I find myself by hands familiar beckoned Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among Thy many mansions, Some sheltering shade where sin and striving cease, And flows forever through heaven's green expansions The river of Thy peace.

There, from the music round about me stealing. I fain would learn the new and holy song. And find at last, beneath Thy trees of healing. The life for which I long.

Lookat the picture above, then turn to your Bible and find the answer to the question. The picture illustrates the verse in which the answer will be found. Each week we will publish an illustrated question

Growing Royal Hybrid Walnuts in California

The name Royal was first given by environment, causing a breaking up of Mr. Burbank to a supposed hybrid be- the original species, but further study tween the northern California black has brought us to believe that these and Jugians nigra, the eastern black, are really hybrids. We are led to From the first published description this opinion from the fact that the general much more vigorous and retain ceptional vigor among their progeny of this variety, however, it would percentage of these unusual trees the qualities of their parents to a much do this in an extremely irregular manappear that the staminate parent sup varies from year to year and that posedly a northern California black among the seedlings of these California walnut, was in reality itself a Royal nigra trees there are always some hybrid, a tree showing a very rough, typical of the species, and some years small nut which must certainly con- a great many. For example, there are some nigra trees in thern California species is commonly northern part of the State which are planted and the seedlings raised to bank type. These are too numerous and kept in the nursery for at least for individual description.

Seedlings of Royal Hybrids.-The seedlings originating from first-generation Royal trees, of either the northern other roots. The majority of hybrid or southern California type, are in trees which produce seedlings of exseedlings of Paradox trees. In the second generation, however, that is, trees twice removed from the original cross, the exceptional vigor is mostly lest and the seedlings become no better than or even interior to those of the original species. In other words, the Royal hybrid seems on the average to retain its quality of exceptional vigor of growth one generation longer than does the Paradox. Various individual Royal trees, however, vary greatly in their ability to impart their characteristics to their progeny. Only a very few of them give seedlings which show uniformly a large percentage of trees as good as the parent. In the majority of cases the seedlings vary greatly and are not at all uniform. Almost always, however, the rule above stated is maintained that the seedlings of first-generation trees are more vigorerations. The result has been that ous than those of the second generaappear equally vigorous. By ANDREW WEINANT.

Recause the number of turkeys in the United States has constantly decreased in the last few years while the demand has perhaps increased, a more profitable side line than turkey raising for those favorably situated for the work could hardly be found. Given plenty of range, turkeys will readily find grasshoppers and other and continuing the tile as far up the acorns and nuts of various kinds. In the results have been discouraging.

One of the most important steps toward success in turkey raising is the proper selection of breeding stock.

Not as Big as He Looks. #

Unhatchable eggs, weak poults and small, scrubby turkeys are largely the result of carelessness in the selection of the parent stock. In selecting turkeys for breeding purposes, strength and vigor are the first points to be considered. To indicate this the body should be deep and vide, the back broad, and the breast round and full. The head should be of good she and of a clean, healthy appearance. strong, well-made frame is shown thick, sturdy shanks and straight, strong toes.

Inbreeding is harmful and if carried on very long will result in the keep of vigor and vitality. It is, therefore advisable each year to obtain a new tom of unrelated bleed, but of the same type. Nothing is to be gained by crossing varieties, as such practice soon reduces pure breds to mongreds. The most satisfactory time of year o select breeding stock is No or December. By purchasing early in the season one not only has a backet number to choose from, but the birds are given ample time to become acquainted with their new surroundings efore the mating season, which in the South ordinarily begins early in February and in the North about a month later.

Important amounts of perishable oods are made dangerous or inadible in households because they are exposed unnecessarily to heat, moisture, germs, dust, dirt, or to flies and other insects.

Those who are contemplating having turkey for Thanksgiving dinner would do well to do their turkey shopping early and fatten the bird themselves down in the coal bin or somewhere. One reason for the advance is due to the fact that the government has entered the market and proposes to purchase adequate supplies proposes to purchase adequate supplies (Corrected by W. D. Handerson & Ca.) of dressed turkeys for the American (Corrected by W. D. Handerson & Ca.) soldiers and sailors abroad and in cansoldiers and sailors abroad and in cantonments and training camps.
